

National Trust

Draw Hambletonian!

George Stubbs is most famous for painting pictures of his favourite animals.

When you visit Mount Stewart, look out for a very large painting of a horse. You'll find it at the top of one of the staircases, you can't miss it!

It's called, 'Hambletonian, rubbing down' and was painted by Stubbs in 1800, which makes it more than 200 years old!

Why not have a go at drawing your own Hambletonian? Use the empty frame on page 2 to draw your horse; you can use the picture on this page to help you.

Email your creation to us at mountstewart.web@gmail.com - we might even display it on our website!